

Juliette Franklin

Solicitor
Employment

Cardiff, UK

Juliette is an employment lawyer with Slater and Gordon lawyers in Cardiff.

She has practiced in employment law and discrimination law for almost two decades.

She has particular expertise in dealing with complex discrimination cases under all strands of anti-discrimination legislation, with a particular interest in disability discrimination, sex and maternity discrimination and whistleblowing.

Juliette is also very experienced in collective labour law issues, in particular in advising individuals, employee representatives and unions in redundancy situations.

In 2008, she represented over 400 former workers following their employer going in to administration.

This resulted in a total compensation award worth in the region of £2.5 million.

Juliette is a regular contributor to both the local and national press. She also delivers training for the Employment Lawyers' Association and to clients.
