

Deborah Casale

Principal Lawyer, Employment

London, UK

Deborah advises on all aspects of employment law including unfair dismissal, discrimination and equal pay disputes.

She has particular experience in the financial services and technology sectors and has dealt with many senior executive terminations and compromise and settlement agreements in those sectors.

In addition, she has advised employees in substantial sex discrimination, pregnancy and maternity discrimination claims and in cases concerning race discrimination, whistleblowing and equal pay.

Many of these have been against major financial institutions - several of which resulted in favourable six figure settlements.
