

Nazia Khan

Solicitor
Employment Law

Manchester, UK

Nazia Khan is an Employment Lawyer at Slater and Gordon's Manchester Office.

Nazia has worked in Employment law for over 11 years. She was called to The Bar in 1999, at the Honourable Society of the Middle Temple and then cross qualified as a Solicitor in 2004.

She has a diverse range of employment experience from contentious and non-contentious work, both in the Public and Private sectors. She has a mixed background of Respondent and Claimant work, as well as undertaking Union work.

During her career, she has been a legal adviser on disciplinary panels, advising the Chair on law, evidence and procedure. As well as undertaking her own advocacy in Employment Tribunals.

She has also contributed to newspapers and magazine articles on Employment issues and is fluent in Urdu and Punjabi.

Expertise

- Employment Law
- Dismissals,
- Disciplinary issues,
- Negotiating Exit Packages,
- Settlement Agreements,
- Race Discrimination

Career History

- Since 2015 Slater and Gordon Manchester

Education

- 2004 BPP Law College
- QLTT (Qualifying Law Transfer Test) Admitted as Solicitor
- 1999 Manchester Metropolitan University
- Postgraduate Diploma Legal Practice at The Bar

Professional Membership

- Employment Lawyers Association