

Hannah Cornish

Principal Lawyer
Family Law

Watford
Milton Keynes

Hannah is a Principal Lawyer in our family department at Slater and Gordon Lawyers in Watford and Milton Keynes.

She is a sensitive and skilled family law solicitor who handles cases surrounding divorce, cohabitation, domestic abuse, surrogacy and adoption.

Her particular expertise lies in disputes concerning children which include residence, contact arrangements, international custody disputes and international child abduction.

Hannah stands out from most other family solicitors because she is able to undertake the advocacy for her clients within court proceedings from the very first hearing right through to the last.

Her calm, inquisitorial nature is perfectly suited to the most emotional and complex cases and she promotes a conciliatory and non-confrontational approach. This means she will try and resolve issues amicably and without recourse to the courts.

However if necessary, Hannah is also a confident and experienced court advocate and boasts a robust determination to ensure the best outcome for her clients.

Expertise

- Family law
- Children matters
- Divorce
- Cohabitation disputes
- Financial settlements
- Pensions
- Custody
- Contact arrangements
- Adoption

Career history

- Since September 2012 Slater and Gordon
- Keele University
- College of Law, Nottingham

Professional memberships

- Member of the Law Society's Children Panel